Sector 10's products prove to potentially reduce ($$$) Billions of dollars in unnecessary liability exposure in buildings across the U.S. and globally

Bellevue, WA – Sector 10, Inc. (OTC Bulletin Board: SECT; Frankfurt: '4SR') announced today it has re-launched its web-site www.Sector10.com to emphasize the Pre-deployment of emergency equipment as the way to save lives.

While an important step for Sector10, CEO Pericles DeAvila said most importantly Sector10.com provides another tool in educating the public on the true need for a pre-deployed emergency response system that provides First Aid and personal protective equipment (PPE) in our cities. For as little as $0.03 per square foot Sector 10 can provide solutions, which save lives in a disaster, fire, or terror attack while reducing liability exposure across the nation. "We value life".

Is Sector 10 providing solutions for the unthinkable or a paradigm shift in the public's current perceptions of Public Safety Standards? You decide.
